CRC HEATING & VENTILATION APPRENTICES NAMED BEST IN REGION

Two Cambridge Regional College apprentices have won top awards for their outstanding work.

Daniel Flain, 20, won the Senior Apprentice of the Year Silver Award in the BEST East of England Building Services Engineering Training Awards, while George Morgan, 19, won the Junior Apprentice of the Year prize.

Celebrating success: Daniel Flain, Steve Gayfer from CRC, George Morgan and Martin Johnston

The two apprentices in Heating and Ventilation were guests of honour at a gala evening at Duxford Imperial War Museum, where they were presented with their awards.

CRC assessor Martin Johnston, who was at the awards evening, said: “We are very proud of them – both George and Daniel are exceptionally talented and deserve the awards.”

Daniel, from St Neots, works for Aylward EMS Ltd and George, who lives in Great Chesterford, is an apprentice with Burwell Mechanical Services

NOTES TO EDITORS

Cambridge Regional College is the second largest provider of full-time education for 16 to 19 year-olds in the eastern region. The College has more than 4,000 full-time and 6,000 part-time students. Students come in from a 40-mile radius, covering Cambridge and its surrounding villages, eastern Bedfordshire, northern Essex and western Suffolk.

Over 80 per cent of full-time students are aged 16 to 18 years old and come to the College after secondary school; the rest are mature students, studying on a range of Access to Higher Education and vocational programmes. The College offers the largest and most comprehensive range of vocational courses in Cambridgeshire, and has one of the largest work-based learning contracts in the Eastern Region.
