APPRENTICE JACK PUTS ON THE SILVER SERVICE FOR VIP VISITOR

Apprentice Jack Aldhouse proved his front-of-house skills were first class when he stepped up to the challenge of serving a very important visitor at Cambridge Regional College's Park restaurant.

The 20 year-old Hospitality Apprentice took charge when Agriculture Minister Jim Paice came for lunch, using his silver service skills to impeccable effect and ensuring the event went smoothly.

Mr Paice, the Minister for Agriculture and Food and MP for South East Cambridgeshire, said he was very impressed by the food and the service he received in the restaurant during his visit to meet CRC Principal Anne Constantine yesterday.

Jack, who is doing an Advanced Level 3 Apprenticeship in Hospitality, Supervision and Leadership, hopes to run his own hotel in the future and was delighted to be given the opportunity to serve a Government minister.

“It is always good to have a different range of customers and it was great experience to serve Mr Paice,” he said.

NOTES TO EDITORS

Cambridge Regional College is the second largest provider of full-time further education for 16 to 19 year-olds in the eastern region. The College has more than 4,000 full-time and 6,000 part-time students. Students come in from a 40-mile radius, covering Cambridge and its surrounding villages, eastern Bedfordshire, northern Essex and western Suffolk.

Over 80 per cent of full-time students are aged 16 to 18 years old and come to the College after secondary school; the rest are mature students, studying on a range of Access to Higher Education and vocational programmes. The College offers the largest and most comprehensive range of vocational courses in Cambridgeshire, and has one of the largest work-based learning contracts in the Eastern Region.
