CAMBRIDGE REGIONAL COLLEGE STUDENTS TO HOST GALA CHARITY DINNER

26th November 2007

Catering students at Cambridge Regional College will be helping to raise money for charity this Thursday evening at a dinner and auction that is being held in support of the local charity MAGPAS.

This is the fifth year that students on the National Diploma Hospitality Supervision course have organised this event, and they are hoping that funds raised from this year will exceed the fantastic £1345 that was raised last year at the charity's 35th birthday dinner.

MAGPAS Spokesman, Christian Morris says: "The Cambridge Regional College Dinner in aid of MAGPAS is always a great occasion. The Catering students never fail to impress with the food they serve up and all of the proceeds go to support the lifesaving work of our volunteers. We are very grateful to everyone at the College for continuing to nominate MAGPAS as the Charity that benefits from the dinner."

In addition to enjoying a delicious five-course meal, diners will be encouraged to support the charity through a raffle prize draw and a charity auction. The students have drummed up fantastic support from local companies who have offered some great prizes that will be on offer to the highest bidder, including two free MOTs, meal vouchers at top restaurants and bottles of wine.

Representatives from MAGPAS will be attending the dinner, and will give a short presentation about the charity, the work that they do and how the money raised will be spent.

The menu for the evening contains a selection of delicious dishes including salmon fish cakes, mushrooms stuffed with goats cheese, bacon wrapped chicken with pistachios, banoffee pie and lime & coconut macaroons. The five-course meal costs £22.50 per head, with £15 going to MAGPAS.

The event will be held on Thursday 29th November at the Riverside Restaurant at the College's City Centre campus on Newmarket Road and will start at 7pm. To book please call 01223 532300.
