

7 September 2010

Press Release

LEARN A NEW SKILL OR TURN A HOBBY INTO A CAREER AT CAMBRIDGE REGIONAL COLLEGE

Develop your creative talent this autumn – and you could discover a whole new career. If you've ever wanted to try your hand at printmaking or take your DIY skills to a new level, then now's the time, with Cambridge Regional College's fantastic range of part-time courses.

If you want to train in a new skill, improve your job prospects with extra qualifications, or find out how to keep your children safe online, the College has the experts available to help. Courses include everything from professional business qualifications to basic car maintenance, and Indian head massage to creative writing.

Part-time students benefit from the College's superb facilities – the result of a £23 million redevelopment programme – with modern, purpose-built art and design studios, fully equipped workshops and state-of-the-art resources.

Enrolment sessions take place this Wednesday and Thursday, 8 and 9 September, at CRC's Science Park campus in King's Hedges Road, from 4.30pm to 7pm. For more information on courses available, see the Part-time Course Guide on www.camre.ac.uk

- ends -

MEDIA ENQUIRIES:

For more information, please contact Lynn O'Shea, PR & Events Co-ordinator, on 01223 418773 or email loshea@camre.ac.uk

NOTES TO EDITORS

Cambridge Regional College is the second largest provider of full-time education for 16 to 19 year-olds in the eastern region. The College has around 3,500 full-time and 6,000 part-time students. Students come in from a 40-mile radius, covering Cambridge and its surrounding villages, eastern Bedfordshire, northern Essex and western Suffolk.

Over 80 per cent of full-time students are aged 16 to 18 years old and come to the College after secondary school; the rest are mature students, studying on a range of Access to Higher Education and vocational programmes. The College offers the largest and most comprehensive range of vocational courses in Cambridgeshire.