STUNNING ROSA BECOMES THE FACE OF CAMBRIDGE

Travel and Tourism student Rosa Dama has become the Face of Cambridge after wowing the judges with her striking looks.

The 16 year-old CRC student is gracing the cover of this month's Style magazine after winning the competition run by Ashworth Photography, along with £500 worth of prizes.

She was one of 70 entries for the contest, which raised money for breast cancer research with celebrity makeovers for the would-be models.

And it's not the first time Rosa has hit the headlines - when she was just 11 she won a nationwide modeling competition in Girl Talk magazine.

Rosa, who is in her first year at CRC, said she was absolutely delighted to win the Face of Cambridge competition – but was speechless when she heard the news as she didn't expect to win.

Now she hopes her modelling career will take off – in between her work at the college.

"I love travelling and I want to be an air hostess when I leave college but I also love modelling, so it was great to win the competition," she said.
