SAFEGUARDING
KEEPING APPRENTICES SAFE

Keeping Apprentices Safe

At Cambridge Regional College, we take our responsibility to ensure the safety of our students very seriously.

This also extends to our students who have chosen to study with the college as part of an apprenticeship programme.

We are committed to working together to create a fantastic learning experience, and to ensure the highest levels of apprentice safety and wellbeing.

Our Approach

The college has a clear commitment to safeguarding, which is overseen by the Designated Safeguarding Lead and safeguarding team. They promote and implement the Safeguarding Policy, ensuring that it is reviewed regularly and acted upon.

Additionally, all members of college staff working with apprentices are trained in safeguarding and are able to access additional information, advice and training when appropriate.

Employer's Duty

Employers have a duty to comply with all legislation and statutory responsibilities. There is a particular expectation that an employer should take responsibility for an apprentice's welfare in the workplace and to seek appropriate advice when they feel an apprentice may be at risk.

We appreciate that for many organisations this can be a confusing and complex area. Please refer to the following pages, which explain the college support provided and some of the ways you may wish to incorporate information into your current procedures.

Safeguarding

Safeguarding is the overarching term used to describe the protection of the health, wellbeing and human rights of individuals. Under legislation, all parties involved in an apprenticeship have to take reasonable action to minimise risks to apprentices. This includes aspects of the apprentice experience, both in and outside of the workplace, as well as any attendance at college.

Many areas are considered to fall under the definition of safeguarding, including:

- Physical abuse
- Neglect
- Emotional abuse
- Sexual abuse

The above four categories include:

- Bullying (including online)
- Peer on Peer abuse
- Discriminatory abuse
- Forced marriage
- Self abuse
- Female genital mutilation
- Modern slavery
- Criminal exploitation
- Domestic violence and abuse

The College's Role

- Ensure that employers are aware of their safeguarding obligations.
- Ensure apprentices have an awareness of safeguarding and understand how to access college support services.
- Provide safeguarding training for all college employees working with apprentices.
- Ensure college staff working with young and vulnerable people are subject to an enhanced Disclosure and Barring service check.
- Maintain open channels of communication with each employer. Apprentices may act very differently depending on their environment and may feel more comfortable discussing sensitive issues with different people.

The Employer's Role

- Familiarise themselves with relevant government legislation.
- Take appropriate steps to understand what safeguarding means in practice at their organisation, in the context of the responsibilities they have for the people they employ.
- Ensure that any staff working with apprentices in a position of trust are appropriate for the role and do not present any danger or threat.
- If possible, identify a person to coordinate safeguarding across an organisation.
- Communicate any concerns regarding safeguarding to the relevant services.

Prevent

As part of the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015, colleges are required to pay 'due regard to the need to prevent individuals from being drawn into terrorism'.

There is no single way of identifying a person who may be vulnerable to extremist ideology and it is often the culmination of a number of influences. These can include, family, friends or relationships they have made online. Extremism can also include non-violent action.

All apprentices will undertake a mandatory induction in which these issues will be covered.

The College's Role

- Provide relevant training for college staff so that they understand the obligations the college has under Prevent Duty and how to manage risks and concerns.
- Have clear procedures in place so that any concerns can immediately be brought to the attention of the safeguarding team.
- Ensure apprentices are able to express views in non-extremist ways and create an environment that encourages respectful free speech.

The Employer's Role

- Demonstrate a commitment to the principles that underpin the Prevent Duty.
- Seek specialist support if any concerns are raised.

British Values

An important part of Prevent, is also the promotion of British values. These are the norms that shape our society and which are enshrined in law, through legislation such as the Equality Act 2010.

British values are described as:

- Democracy
- The rule of law
- Individual liberty
- Mutual respect and tolerance for those with different faiths and beliefs, and for those without faith.

Apprentices are encouraged to explore ideas in a context where these values are recognised and respected.

The College's Role

- To promote British values throughout an apprentice's programme.
- Explain and explore British values and how they influence our society during a dedicated induction programme.
- Encourage apprentices to respect each other and value their differences, including with regard to protected characteristics outlined in the Equality Act 2010.

The Employer's Role

- Demonstrate a commitment to British values.
- Adhere to the requirements of the Equality Act 2010.

Staying Safe Online

The increasing use of the internet and digital technology has presented huge opportunities, both to enrich the learning environment for apprentices and also allowing them to expand their personal horizons. People are able to access and engage with online content in many ways, so people need to have the skills to be able to use the internet safely and develop appropriate online behaviours.

It is paramount that people are aware of ways in which they can protect themselves online and ensure the security of their personal data. Dangers can include bullying and abuse, revenge porn, grooming, identity theft, and viruses.

An important part of an apprentice's development is further developing critical life ready thinking. We will support your apprentice, as part of their studies, to consider how to keep themselves safe.

The College's Role

- Assess how apprentices may be at risk of harm using the internet or technology.
- Provide relevant information for apprentices so that they are able to work safely and effectively online.
- Make sure college staff are trained to identify and deal with concerns about online safety.
- Provide clear guidance on what is and is not an acceptable use of the internet.

The Employer's Role

- Ensure apprentices are made aware of your organisation's policies on using the internet and technology in the workplace.
- Understand the dangers apprentices may face using technology in the workplace and act to minimise risks.
- Communicate any concerns about safety online to the college.

Safeguarding in Practice

The college is available to you as a resource and if you find that you need support managing a particular scenario, please don't hesitate to get in touch. Some apprentices may feel comfortable talking to some people about an issue and not others. So the college will endeavour to be as transparent as possible with employers, while respecting the apprentices trust and adhering to college confidentiality policies.

We would encourage you to have regular meetings and supervisory sessions, as well as the formal apprentice reviews with CRC assessors, with your apprentice so that you can act on any concerns that arise.

An apprentice may not seek help over an issue of safeguarding, but there are common signs that can help you to recognise when things may be wrong.

In an emergency or when suspecting a serious issue we recommend contacting the appropriate authorities in the first instance.

Warning signs may include

- Absence - Missing work or not turning up at college
- Changes in appearance
- Changes in behaviour and character - becoming quiet or loud, aggressive or withdrawn.
- Changes in emotional health - crying, anxiety or low mood
- Excessive alcohol consumption
- Physical injuries - cuts or bruises
- Poor living conditions
- Self harm
- Use of drugs
- Withdrawing from certain activities - reluctance to go online, sudden changes in use of technology.

It is important to stress that the existence of some of these characteristics is not a definitive sign that anything is wrong.

Who to contact
